

Post COVID Schools

Version 1

For a free full document (17 pgs.), please send a message of inquiry through the website. For more resources, you are welcomed to subscribe to the complimentary monthly newsletter.

Post COVID Schools – Version 1 [Content]

1. Intimidating Questions: Questions that still do not have answers regarding September.

2. General Safety Measures/Safeguarding These are the safety measures needed to be done on school ground.

3. Suggested Ways to Reopen Schools Fully Online, blended/hybrid, phased-in

4. Curriculum Standards, Flex Grade levels, digital platforms, variety of subjects, redesigning for special learners

5. Instruction Two-way process, time, new pedagogical methods, digital platform, digital literacy.

6. Assessment: Administering assessments, rubrics, feedback, grading system

7. Well-being and Emotional Stability varying activities, group awareness sessions, task management, coaching practices, cyber security awareness sessions

8. Blended/Hybrid Learning Basic tips

9. Phased-in Learning Basic tips

10. Challenges to be Thoroughly Studied 15 Items related to all the above

11. Focus Synergy : understanding of the situation, collaboration, feedback loops, highly-effective teachers, flexibility

12. Focus Urgency accountability, equity, mental health

13. Ventures Examples of new ideas that can be incorporated

14. Risk Management – Contingency Plans Four main themes to be handled

15. Conclusion

Manal Zeineddine

GLOBAL EDUCATION INFLUENCE
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
QUALITY CONSULTING

Contact:

www.orbitsdevelopment.com

manal.zd@gmail.com

966 569 313 803 - 961 76 759 189

Face-to-face learning cannot be replaced. Blended learning is a smart solution, but it has its conflicting areas. That is why planning is essential and training is indispensable.

Remote learning is only a mode of learning and should not distract our attention from other substantial matters in the school community.

Remote learning should not be viewed as a competition among schools. There is one purpose that everyone can collaborate to attain – a package of safety, learning, and growth.